

We're here
for you,

students of CCSU

There has been quite a bit of interest over the last couple years in getting a student newspaper on campus. Well, this publication is, hopefully, the first of many issues of the Island Waves.

We will use a newsletter format until we have enough material to switch to the larger tabloid format. This size will help to distinguish Island Waves from the University News, which is put out by CCSU's Public Information Office.

We hope the Island Waves will be an outlet that students will use to voice some of their interests, comments, concerns, and even complaints. However, it is not a forum for name-calling or yellow journalism.
