

We made it happen

by BARBARA GREENWOOD

Our first real issue of the CCSU student newspaper is done. Let me tell you all that the newspaper business is not as easy as it looks. We appreciate all that has been done thus far to get our paper going.

We still need a lot of help. Please, if you have any material to submit, feel free to do so. We have a cubbyhole in the Student Center with the Office of Student Life. We accept club news, informative articles, creative writings, opinions, letters to the editor, and will consider about anything else that is printable. We will try not to repeat the same articles that are printed in the University News, though some duplication will occur.

Please be sure that your name is legible and that your phone number is included on submissions, otherwise we will not print it. Already, we have received a letter to the editor that will not get printed because the name was not legible and the author provided no phone number. Also, please try to submit original material for opinions — students want to know what you think, feel, and have to say. If you just quote someone else, do an article about the views of that person and submit that to us.

What interests you will probably interest other students, so please help us fill this newspaper. Thanks.
