A close-up photograph of a fabric band, likely a military or naval rank insignia. The band is divided into two horizontal sections. The upper section is a vibrant red fabric, and the lower section is a dark navy blue fabric. A thin, gold-colored braided cord runs along the boundary between the two sections. On the dark blue section, the words "CORPUS CHRISTI" and "TEXAS" are embroidered in a bold, gold-colored, sans-serif font, stacked vertically.
